About the Author

Rebecca is an English illustrator living in Australia. She grew up in a creative, if slightly eccentric, family. Her days were spent roaming the English countryside collecting wild flowers and leaves, chasing butterflies and birds, and drawing tiny pictures of everything she could. After graduating from art school in Winchester, she moved to London where she worked as a textile designer. She worked there for a few years, until her restlessness had her flying off to Australia in search of adventure. Now she has replaced the countryside with concrete, and lives slap-bang in the middle of a big city. But she is to be found most days in her studio, drinking endless cups of tea, staring out of the window at a bunch of imaginary critters, and trying to draw them.

The book is really nice. I didn't like having to wait so long ...

By Judy

I am really enjoying coloring. I wish the front of the envelope wasn't quite so busy. If I mail these cards the addresses will have to be crammed into the space provided which is not very big and the return address will have to be put on the back unless you cover some of the coloring. The book is really nice. I didn't like having to wait so long to get it - but it's certainly worth it.

I love to color and there is an abundance of Christmas ...

By E. Byrne

I love to color and there is an abundance of Christmas critters and candy canes to work on. I have anxiety real bad, I think a lot of us do, and I come to this off & on for the same page I'm working on and get it done to go to the next one. Very relaxing & since I'm a real home body makes me feel very festive without going to all the 'buy me, buy me' stores!
